

Free school meals

You can claim for free school meals for any child who normally lives with you and who is classed as being under your parental care. Children may be eligible for free school meals if you receive any of the following benefits:

- Universal credit (and your net combined household income is less than £7,400 a year after tax)
- Income support, pension guarantee credit, income-based job seekers allowance, income-related employment support allowance
- Child tax credit only (with no working tax credit) and your annual taxable income does not exceed £16,190

Children of families with no recourse to public funds are now also eligible.

To complete the form to claim for free school meals or to find out about the eligibility criteria, visit: <https://www.leeds.gov.uk/schools-and-education/apply-for-free-school-meals>

If your child attends full days at a nursery attached to a local authority school, they may be eligible for free school meals in the school nursery if you are receiving one of the above benefits.

If a child receives free school meals, they will continue to get them, even if their parent's income changes. This will remain in place until Universal Credit is fully rolled out across the UK and will only end when they move from primary to secondary school.
