Educating For 'Life In All Its Fullness'

9th October '26

Dear Families,

A Wonderful Two Weeks of Learning in Class 3

It has been another busy and exciting couple of weeks, with the children becoming fully immersed in their learning.

We have continued our Stone Age topic, where the children have enjoyed exploring what life was like during this fascinating period in history. They have been particularly enthusiastic about creating their own cave art and researching the remarkable discovery of Skara Brae. The children thoroughly enjoyed carrying out their own research and discovering fascinating facts about this ancient settlement. They will now use their findings to create an informative fact file all about Skara Brae.

In English, we have now completed our work on writing instructions based on a woolly mammoth and have begun our exciting new unit based on Stone Age Boy. Over the coming weeks, the children will explore the story and develop their descriptive writing skills, leading towards creating their own detailed setting descriptions.

The children were also very fortunate to have an additional PE lesson this week while other classes were out on visits. Although the poor weather meant that we had to take our lesson indoors, this certainly did not dampen the children's enthusiasm! They particularly enjoyed developing their teamwork and communication skills through a competitive game of dodgeball. It was wonderful to see them working together, supporting one another and showing such great team spirit.

A Gentle Reminder

Please remember to check Tapestry regularly for your child's homework. We would also encourage you to continue reading with your child, with signatures at least three times each week and practising their weekly spellings. These small, regular activities make a valuable contribution to their progress and confidence.

Thank you, as always, for your continued support. It has been lovely to see the children's enthusiasm and curiosity throughout the two weeks, and we are looking forward to another two exciting weeks of learning before our half term break!

King regards
Class 3 team.
